

Looking to create the perfect environment for how they live and entertain, our featured owners wished to blend indoor/outdoor living into the design of their home. The interior transformation of a new kitchen and family room addition began with architects Kirsten Kingsley and Keith Ginnodo, owners of KGA. Joe Dodge, Julie Gudvangen and the Delta Renovations team brought this vision to life. The plans include an emphasis on the surrounding view with easy access to the outdoor living space. The alfresco dining room was designed with retractable screens and is skirted by expansive patios which highlight the extraordinary gardens.

At Delta, our objective is to construct client's homes as if they were our own. Long-term satisfaction and readiness to refer us to friends and family speaks highly of our reputation and integrity. So if your desire is to make your space more functional or simply more beautiful, Delta Renovations is here for you.
